Jesus told this dramatic story in response to a devout Jew, who wanted to understand how to apply God's great commandment of love to his everyday life circumstances. This story is found only in the gospel according to Saint Luke. In so many words, this religious-minded Jew said: "I want to love God as best as I can, and I want to love my neighbor, as well. But how do I know that I am fulfilling my duty to love my neighbor as myself?"

Jesus must have smiled when He heard this man challenge Him to explain one's duty towards their neighbor. For the Jewish believer, the law of love was plain and simple: "Treat your neighbor as you would treat yourself." The real issue for this believer was the correct definition of who is "my neighbor." He understood "neighbor" to mean one's fellow Jew, who belonged to the same covenant which God made with the people of Israel. Up to a certain point, Jesus agreed with this sincere expert, but, at the same time, He challenged him to see that God's view of neighbor went far beyond his narrow definition. Jesus told a parable to show how wide God's love and mercy is towards every fellow human being, which is all people.

Jesus tells us that we must be willing to help, even if others brought trouble on themselves through their own fault or negligence. Second, our love and concern to help others in need must be practical. Good intentions and showing pity, or empathizing with others, are not enough. Sometimes, our prejudice gets in the way of mercy. God wants us to be merciful, just as He is merciful. And lastly, our love for others must be as wide and as inclusive as God's love. God excludes no one from His care and concern. God's love is unconditional. So we must be ready to do well to others for their sake, just as God is good to us. True compassion not only identifies and empathizes with the one who is in pain, but takes that pain on oneself in order to bring freedom and restoration.

Remember the words of Jesus always, "Go and do likewise."

Blessings, Fr. Robin
